

NI Chef Bootcamp

The NI Chef Bootcamp offers a unique opportunity to gain industry relevant qualifications, practical food preparation skills, and a step towards a career as a chef.

What's on the menu?

This exciting and fully funded 4-week programme provides participants with the opportunity to gain practical skills and experience in food preparation and basic cookery, alongside achieving industry relevant qualifications in Food Safety and Food Allergen Awareness.

With masterclasses from local chefs and opportunities to get first-hand insight into how a commercial kitchen operates, the NI Chef Bootcamp provides a starting point for those interested in a career as a chef. The programme will conclude with a celebratory event for those completing the programme, and will provide a unique opportunity to showcase their talents to employers.

Why become a Chef?

The Hospitality and Tourism Industry in Northern Ireland is growing and gaining internal recognition for top quality talent. The industry demand for chefs ever increasing, here are just a few reasons to consider a career as a chef:

- Great employers committed to supporting professional development
- Flexibility in Working Hours
- Diverse Career Progression Opportunities
- Opportunity to use creative flair
- Work in a growing and vibrant industry

How to get involved?

NI Chef Bootcamp is looking for participants who are:

- Creative and enthusiastic
- Ready to learn new skills
- Interested in becoming a chef
- Over the age of 18
- Eligible to work in Northern Ireland

The programme is free to participants, benefits including universal credit will not be impacted by the training and financial assistance is available to help with travel and childcare costs, if applicable. More information on each NI Chef Bootcamp with scheduled dates will be available on the programme's website:

www.belfastmet.ac.uk/support-for-business/nichefbootcamp

belfastmet.ac.uk

nrc.ac.uk

serc.ac.uk

nwrc.ac.uk

src.ac.uk

swc.ac.uk

www.economy-ni.gov.uk