Section 1 – Introduction

Function of Further Education Colleges (Northern Ireland)

Further Education (FE) Colleges are the main providers of vocational and technical education and training in Northern Ireland (NI). The nature of College provision is diverse and broad based ranging from Entry level to Degree level. The FE Sector plays a central role in raising levels of literacy and numeracy, and in up-skilling and re-skilling the population through a broad range of courses leading to qualifications.

There are 6 FE Colleges within Northern Ireland:

- Belfast Metropolitan College (BMC);
- Northern Regional College (NRC);
- North West Regional College (NWRC);
- South Eastern Regional College (SERC);
- South West College (SWC); and
- Southern Regional College (SRC).

The Colleges operate under the provisions of the Further Education (Northern Ireland) Order 1997.

FE Sector Records Management Policy and Guidance

Each College recognises that its administrative records are a unique and irreplaceable resource. The proper management of this resource is necessary to satisfy our internal business processes and to comply with legislation, including the Freedom of Information Act 2000, which provides for access to information held by the Colleges. Each College has policy and guidance in place which addresses records management and sets out a commitment to the development of an efficient and effective records management system. Crucial to the success of these policies and guidance is the development and implementation of a Retention and Disposal Schedule ('the Schedule').

Purpose of the Retention and Disposal Schedule

The Schedule aims to support the development of greater control over the records created by FE Colleges. It will enable each College to dispose of records promptly when they cease to be of any continuing administrative, historic or legal value and will identify records that should be transferred to the Public Record Office of Northern Ireland ('PRONI') because of their long-term historical/research value.

As Public Authorities and data controllers, the FE Sector is legally obliged to comply with both the Data Protection Act (2018) and the Freedom of Information Act (2000). The main principle behind both Acts is the public 'right to know'. This may be either in relation to their own personal information or that of the organisation therefore it is critical that the FE Sector manages its records in line with either statutory guidance or business need. The above-mentioned Acts are enforced by the Information Commissioner's Office and promote transparency and accountability of the authority. The schedule complies with the requirements in the Public Records Act (NI) 1923 and the Disposal of Documents Order (S.R. & O. 1925 No 167).

The FE Sector has collaborated on the development of a single Retention and Disposal Schedule for all the Colleges. The purpose of this Retention and Disposal Schedule is to manage the life of records from their creation to their completion.

Section 2 – What is covered by this Retention and Disposal Schedule?

This schedule identifies the retention and disposal arrangements for all records (hard copy and electronic, including communications) created, and held, by Northern Ireland FE Colleges. A record is recorded information, in any form, created or received by the Colleges or individual members of staff to support and show evidence of College activities. For the purpose of this Retention and Disposal Schedule, records are defined as:

“information created, received, and maintained as evidence and information by an organisation or person, in pursuance of legal obligations or in the transaction of business” (ISO 15489-1:2016)

This information should be destroyed as soon as reference to the information has ceased. Unnecessary retention of such information represents a resource burden for the College in terms of storage costs, administration and freedom of information and data protection obligations.

The disposal periods given in the Schedule relate to master copies of records which form the official version retained for regulatory or business reasons. Where it is clear that a master copy is being retained elsewhere within the College, there is no requirement to keep duplicates. In all cases, copies of records should not be retained any longer than the period stated for the master copy in the Schedule.

The Data Protection Act 2018 specifically requires that personal data should not be kept for longer than necessary. In some instances, the College maintains live records which are subject to ongoing review and update. As such it is not possible to determine a set destruction/disposal timeframe. Additionally, it may be necessary to retain information beyond the stated retention period for the purpose of other investigatory or legal processes.

Section 3 – Operation of this Retention and Disposal Schedule

Closing a file

In order for this retention and disposal schedule to operate effectively, it is important to maintain a streamlined filing system through regular and systematic closure of files. Closing a file does not mean that it has to be immediately removed from the filing system. What it does mean is that no additional papers should be added to the file and that it should be used only for reference. Closure triggers should be clearly set out, e.g., upon completion of a project, or the end of an Academic year.

If files are not closed on a formalised and regular basis the following problems are likely to occur:

- Files inevitably become untidy with resulting damage to documents;
- Older files cannot be moved to inactive storage;
- File fasteners and covers come under excessive strain from the weight of paper;
- Access to items on a file becomes difficult; and
- Inactive information is held on current files.

Regular file closure has the following benefits:

- Files are kept to a manageable size;
- Files remain neat and tidy;
- Access to material on files is faster; and
- The progressive disposal of records is made easier.

In addition, some files should be closed at:

- The end of the financial year;
- The end of a project; and
- The end of a mandate.

Files and containers should be reviewed by the relevant Information Asset Owner to ensure that no records are likely to be required for business continuity reasons. When a file is due to be closed the appropriate member of staff should consult the retention and disposal schedule and indicate on the file the Final Action, and the date on which it should be applied.

When placing records into storage, the following should be observed as a minimum:

- Each container relates to 1 disposal date. Records of varying disposal dates should not be archived together. This would result in unnecessary time spent at disposal, separating records to be destroyed from those to be retained; and
- Containers used for archiving hardcopy records are for the use of College records only. At no time should other materials be stored in archive.

Retention periods

Retention periods are based upon the specific business needs of the Colleges in addition to the regulatory environment within which the College operates. The retention period for each type of file is calculated from the point the file is closed. Where the business area confirms there is no longer an enduring business need for the record, the final action should be triggered accordingly.

If there remains an administrative need to retain the record, the reviewer should state a further retention period, after which the final action will be triggered. It may be necessary to retain information beyond the stated retention period for the purposes of other investigatory or legal processes. The information will be disposed of following the completion of this process.

Destruction

Destruction of files will take place on a planned basis in line with the retention and disposal schedule recommendations. Destruction will be conducted by staff responsible for the maintenance of registered file systems, in consultation with the relevant business area. A record of destruction will be kept for audit purposes and all files will be destroyed in line with the arrangements for the destruction of confidential waste.

Commitment to Preserving Files/Records

Each FE College declares that it will take measures to ensure that the records it creates will be appropriately stored and maintained while they are in its custody until either destroyed or transferred to PRONI for permanent preservation.

These measures will include:

- Storing records in an appropriate environment, physical or electronic, on or off-site;
- Ensuring appropriate access control mechanisms are put in place to facilitate staff

- who require continued access to records and information but restrict others;
- Providing search facilities, electronic or physical index systems, to ensure staff understand what they are holding or not holding; and
- Putting in place auditing, finalising and backup policies and regularly testing business continuity procedures and plans for the use of vital records and information.

Section 4 – Categories of Retention and Disposal

Disposal does not just relate to destroying a record, but rather the ‘final action’ that should be applied to a record. Once a business area has confirmed it has no ongoing business need to retain the file, and the retention period has passed, the College should trigger the relevant final actions for each file. This should fall into one of four categories:

Destroy

These are records of no lasting administrative/legal value to the College and of no long-term historical/research value to PRONI. The College will retain these records for a defined period, following which they will be destroyed. The College will adhere to the Lord Chancellor’s Code Of Practice On The Management Of Records Under Section 46 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 in respect of destroying these records.

Permanent Retention by College

These are records which the College needs to retain permanently for business administrative needs. There are likely to be few records in this category, but in the event that the College subsequently decides to dispose of records in this category, it must first consult PRONI, and a revision of the Retention and Disposal Schedule may be required.

Permanent preservation by PRONI

These are files/records which PRONI has decided are of long-term historical research value. These records must be transferred to PRONI under the terms of the Public Records Act (NI) 1923, once they become a historical file (i.e. at 20 years old).

PRONI Appraisal

These are records requiring appraisal by PRONI as they may be of future historical significance. These records are reviewed by the College at specified periods to determine if there is a continuing business need for retention. Once there is no longer a continuing business need, PRONI staff will review the file at first review to determine if they are required for historical or research purposes. These records may be subject to a PRONI first and second review process, as detailed below.

First Review

The purpose of a first review is to identify records which have the potential to have long term historical significance. This is completed approximately 5 years after the date of the last paper, and when the business area has confirmed it has no ongoing administrative need for the record. The College will contact their PRONI client manager to arrange for PRONI to inspect records which are in the ‘PRONI Appraisal’ category and must provide a detailed list of all the records due for inspection. Any records selected by PRONI must be retained by the creating authority until they reach the Second Review stage.

Second Review

Records which have the final action ‘PRONI Appraisal’ and have not been subject to a

First Review should be brought forward for Second Review in a timescale appropriate to ensure their transfer to PRONI by the time they reach 20 years old. Similar to the first review process, the College will contact their PRONI client manager to arrange for PRONI to inspect the records and must provide a detailed list of all the records due for inspection. At the appraisal, PRONI will identify files of historic value in line with PRONI's acquisition strategy and appraisal guidance. Records selected for permanent preservation following PRONI Appraisal will transfer after a warrant has been issued by PRONI.

All records selected by PRONI will transfer under Warrant with a Sensitivity Review completed by the College.

Section 5 – Content of this Schedule

The Schedule is arranged in the following format:

Unique Reference Number:

- This is a unique identifier allocated to each Class/Activity detailed within the Schedule

Class/Activity:

- This describes the main function area for the record.
- Organisational Structures differ within each College. Relevant records may sit within different Functionality areas and staff should cross reference where appropriate.

Series:

- This provides examples of common records within this Activity category.

Retention Period:

- This provides the recommended retention period for the associated records.
- Retention periods are based on legal requirements, contractual obligations, Departmental instruction or identified business need is calculated from the date the file was closed (see Section 4 above).

Relevant Legislation/Rationale:

- This section provides details of legal/statutory background to the decision surrounding the 'Retention Period'

Final Action:

- This describes the final action in the lifecycle of the associated record. See 'Categories of Retention and Disposal'

Section 6 – Roles and Responsibilities

Whilst risk management is a consideration/part of records management, it is only one aspect. Records management also serves other strategic functions:

- Supporting decision-making through access to reliable information

- Enabling operational efficiency by reducing duplication and clutter
- Facilitating public trust through transparency and accountability
- Preserving institutional memory and cultural heritage

Risk is a major theme, but it's balanced with value, evidence, and business/service delivery. The following roles are also considered as Information Asset Owners for their relevant areas:

Chief Executive

The Chief Executive of each College is responsible for ensuring that the College complies with legislative requirements relating to records management, the Data Protection Act (2018) and the Freedom of Information Act (2000). Their principal role is to ensure that the College policy is adhered to.

Directors

Each Director is responsible for the management of records within his/her Department and for the application of the policy within their operational units.

Senior Managers

All managers in the College are accountable to their supervising managers for ensuring that all information and records systems within their operational responsibilities comply with the policy statement and guidelines. They are also responsible for ensuring that guidelines and records management procedures are maintained for their operational units and communicated to employees.

Heads of Departments

The Heads of Departments or Faculties retain responsibility for overview of their individual sections and ensuring the internal structures support operational records management.

Employees

All employees are accountable to their line managers for compliance with this schedule.

College Information/Data Protection Officer (DPO)

Within each College, the DPO or Information Officer will provide guidance and assistance to the College and staff on individual and departmental record management.

FE Sector Information Governance Working Group

The role of this group, reporting to the Human Resources Working Group, is to review generally the Sector Schedule and its obligations under the legislation. The Group comprises the following FE College representation:

- Data Protection & Compliance Manager, Belfast Metropolitan College
- Data Protection Officer, Northern Regional College
- Data Protection & Information Compliance Officer, North West Regional College
- Data Protection Officer, South Eastern Regional College
- Data Protection Officer, South West College
- Data Protection Officer and Corporate Compliance Manager, Southern Regional College
